

Engaging North Atlantic communities on issues of Arctic change

The New England Arctic Network

November 17, 2021

9:00 am - 4:00 pm

The University of New England (UNE-North)

1075 Forest Ave, Portland ME

(including a virtual option)

Sign up here!

\(https://mypages.unh.edu/ne-arctic-convergence/nean-2021-meeting-november-17-2021\)

Goals – To discuss positive engagement of Indigenous communities in local and Arctic research, to participate in network building activities through a story telling activity conducted by UNE North, and to introduce plans for the UArctic Assembly (Portland, ME in June 2022).

Stories of Community Engagement: Panel discussion with Darren Ranco and Bridie McGreavy, University of Maine; Jan Paul, Penobscot Nation Water Specialist; Vanessa Lee Raymond, Data Analyst Inuit Circumpolar Council; Terzah Tippin Poe, Lecturer/Instructor Harvard University and US Lead Polar Research and Policy Initiative. Moderator: Pips Veazey, University of Maine and ARCUS Board of Directors.

Strengthening our Network through Storytelling: Using storytelling techniques, this session will help participants build connections and trust across disciplines, centers and institutions that will strengthen our network. UNE North Affiliate Team members will help us compose stories of how we found passion for our work, moments of successful failure, and aspirations for our impact on our communities and environments that will be captured into a story map to serve as a resource to deepen partnerships and collaborations across the network.

